OPENING OF SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE ATTRACTS MANY VISITORS TO GLAESHOLM

OVER HUNDRED WERE ENTERTAINED

SCHOOL THOROUGHLY INSPECTED ORATORICAL FEAST IN EVENING.

Yesterday was a notable one in the history of this town. The occasion afforded by the formal opening of the Claresholm School of Agriculture, for the gathering of a very large crowd of visitors from every part of the district which is served by this school, brought to this town four of the members of the cabinet, four of the members of the legislature who have not as yet attained cabinet honors, two prominent educationists of the province, a large concourse of the parents and friends of the students and farmers attracted from every part of Southern Alberta, and practically every citizen of this town together with the visitors were at the school at some time during the afternoon and the evening. The classes were continued almost as if none but the students and their instructors were present. This was the first possible means to those interested in the work of the school to learn at first hand what was being done, or would in the future be done, to equip the youth of the province for themselves and the province in that fundamental business of Alberta agriculture.

During the afternoon, every part of the Demonstration Farm was under constant and keen surveillance. The cattle and horses were busy all afternoon receiving admiring, the work of the classes in stock judging was being followed by the commensurate discussion and questions were being asked and answers given. The interest in live stock, the classes receiving instruction in home-making and domestic sciences were augmented by the visitors and everyone was interested in the work of the school. The evening was the fitting climax. Long before eight o'clock the school building and the agricultural exhibits were filled with visitors and when at about 8:30 adjournment was made to the large auditorium, the extent of the crowd could be appreciated. Over 100 filled the room, every available inch of space being occupied and still there must have been one hundred who were either part of the building preparing for the entertainment of the guests or inspecting more closely the equipment of the classrooms. Upon the platform at the southern end of the hall were gathered the speakers and others of the notable visitors. Surrounding Mayor Holmes who was chairman, were Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. C. R. Mitchell, Minister of Public Works; Hon. A. J. McLean, Provincial Secretary; Hon. J. R. Boyle, Minister of Education; Dr. T. G. Taylor, President of the University of Alberta and Chairman of the Board of Agricultural Education; Dr. Coffin, Principal of the Calgary Normal School; J. P. McArthur, M. P. P. (Gloucester); J. H. McColl, M. P. P. (Arcadia); J. A. McNaughton, M. P. P. (Little Bow); Wm. Moffatt, M. P. P. (Claresholm) and others. An orchestra consisting of Messrs. Holmes, Able, Cornish and Moffatt, interspersed the program pleasantly with musical selections. The students wearing their college clothes, blue and gold, escorted their parents, friends and generally looked after the comfort of their guests. The town council was present in a body. It was a most appreciative and interested audience and more than one of the speakers referred to the splendid support which was assured this school, judging by the size and contentedness of the audience which confronted them.

THE FEAST OF ELOQUENCE BEGINS.
Mayor Holmes, in a few chosen words, welcomed the distinguished visitors and expressed his pleasure at the large audience which had assembled to honor the occasion. He referred to the pride and interest of the students enrolled at this school. He gave fitting tribute to the memory of our late member, Hon. Malcolm McKenzie, to whom a large part of the credit for the wisdom of the selection of this town as a location for both the Demonstration Farm and the School of Agriculture is due. After a musical number had been rendered by Miss Strang, the chairman introduced Hon. C. R. Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell appreciated the honor done him as a member of the executive council in his invitation to this opening. He was gratified with the Farm, with its location and with the School itself. Alberta should be congratulated upon the opportunity for education of the future farmers, the backbone of the province's prosperity. The main aim of the school was to give a similar foothold to the young men of the province. It was the vigorous forward policy of the minister of agriculture in augmented at the entry of Mr. Mitchell upon the duties of his department. It was the vigorous forward policy of the minister of agriculture to associate schools such as this with the agricultural future of the province not only of the students but the older farmers as well. The province expected great things of these schools. They are most in Canada, a few similar footholds have been set up in the U. S. These schools deserve support to that they open a new field in educational activity along the very lines of most vital interest to this agricultural province. The buildings were of the best, the equipment was of the very best and the teaching staff had been most carefully and as time would prove, wisely selected. The school showed a promising connecting link between the public schools and the agricultural school which was the first step in the mind of the minister of agriculture in the development of his agricultural education policy. More of these schools are needed and will come. Each school will prove to be an educational and a social center. Its scope is not limited. It should be an impetus to the town itself. In concluding, Mr. Mitchell referred to his own department and said that he thought he could look forward in the face in this constituency which had not been overlooked in the matter of good roads and Mr. Moffatt would see that the department did not overlook Claresholm in the future. He expressed his regret that the late member for this constituency was denied the privilege of seeing the support given by this town and district to one of his cherished plans for his constituents.

ENTERTAINED.
Hon. Duncan Marshall could not counsel the real satisfaction which he was feeling in the splendid justification of the wisdom of the policy of his department. He was glad there were so many farmers and business men so interested in the agricultural education as to attend this opening. This was a new move in education and had been carried out in the face of much criticism and many objections. He had never lost his confidence in this method of educating the farmers' boys and girls. He knew that if a central agricultural school had been established, instead of 149 boys enrolling as in the case of these three schools, not 49 would have become students at a college in a far part. The plans at the Claresholm school were the largest initial class in any similar institution on the continent. Farmers of to day desire to up-to-date and as proof of this they have sent their boys, in such large numbers, to obtain the education which they themselves were denied. In five years there will not be a single school out but ten or a dozen. The object of these schools is not to educate the boy away from the farm, but to give him the knowledge (continued on page 5)

Former Claresholm Banker Wedded.

The following from the High River Times, of recent date, will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. Dunbar in this town, where this gentleman was engaged in business for several years.

A quiet but interesting wedding took place at 3:30 Sunday afternoon Nov. 9th, in the Presbyterian Church, Calgary, when Miss Edith Estelle Wood, of New York City, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Grant Dunbar, manager of the Union Bank, High River. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dean Paget in the presence of twenty relatives and friends.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. Charles Clark of High River, was beamingly groomed in brown broadcloth trimmed with pink and white, with a hat of the same material and color, and a bouquet of single white chrysanthemums.

Charles Clark was master of honor, and Mr. C. A. Farquharson of High River was best man. After the ceremony a large dinner was served at Countess's long table being tastefully decorated with white chrysanthemums.

The guests were—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunbar and two children of Edmonton, Sask.; Mrs. R. B. Jamieson, Miss Jamieson and Mr. Jamieson, of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hendrie, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Balchey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watt, of High River; Miss Alice Wheeden of Bay City, Mich.; and Mr. J. F. Miller, of Vernon, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar left on the evening train for Banff and other mountain resorts and will return to High River, their future home, about November twentieth.

Ladies' Annual Bazaar.

The ladies of the Church of England will hold their annual Bazaar in the I. O. O. F. Opera House on Thursday, November 27th. Fancy Work, Plain Sewing, Home Cooking and Candy Booths will be special features of this year's bazaar. Afternoon tea will be served. The people of this town will see in this bazaar an excellent opportunity for securing delightful gifts for the approaching Xmas season.

Box Social at Clear Lake.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 27th, there will be an entertainment and box social given by the pupils of the Clear Lake School and their teacher, Miss Minnie Egge. A most cordial invitation is extended to all the friends of the school. The ladies are requested to bring baskets. An excellent program will be given.

The University of Alberta Extension Lectures

The second lecture in the series of University Extension Lectures arranged by the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta for Claresholm will be given in the Provincial School of Agriculture on the evening of Tuesday, December 2nd, by Cecil Scott Burgess, A.R.C.S., B.A., Professor of Architecture at the University of Alberta on the subject, "Architecture."

This lecture will point out the services rendered by well considered and substantial buildings for public and private use, both as an important means of creating and maintaining high standards and conditions of living and also as forming a base for the development of an efficient and desirable type of industrial works. This lecture will be brought out by reference to past periods of architecture in relation to the social aims and industrial conditions of the times. Lantern slides will be employed to show the great achievements of the past in architecture which have important lessons for the present day.

Sad News From Scotland

The sad news reached D. H. Ramage and his sister, Mrs. John Wallis, this week of the death of their only son, the eldest of the late Daniel Ramage, at Windygates, Perthshire, Scotland. The late Mrs. Ramage was the mother of a family of 11 children, seven boys and four girls, of which ten survive here. Her husband, Daniel Ramage, who people counted her about two years, was for many years a highly respected merchant in Perth, Perthshire. Two daughters, Mrs. Stark, of the S. W. Bar Ranch and Mrs. Walls, of Price & Walls live in this district, and one son, D. H. Ramage, is the present manager of the Central Meat Market, Claresholm. The eldest member of the family is the Rev. Graville Ramage, of Manor Lewis, Essex, Eng. There are prominent contractors at Windygates, Scot. With the news of the death of Mrs. Ramage came also the news of the death of Mr. Cockburn, the husband of their sister, Agnes. Mr. Cockburn lost his life in the burning of the vessel, Twin Gown, which he was chief engineer, away out in India. Sympathy is extended to the brother and sisters here in their bereavement.

"Lits" Improving

The program at the School of Agriculture "Lit" last Friday evening was the best yet. The respective advantages of travel and reading as an educative factor were debated. R. McLean, McDougall and Miss Snyder advanced the side of travel while T. McNally, R. Soly and Miss School defended reading. The latter won. The judges were Messrs. Hooper and Longman and Miss Goldie. Print Stephen was the critic. The program also consisted of musical selections which were: Miss Annandale; Piano Solo, Miss Cotter; Vocal Duet, Misses Knight and Solo; Reading, Mr. Mosely; Vocal Solo, Miss Strang; Instrumental Duet, Misses Foss. The remainder of the evening was spent pleasantly in parlor games.

Musical Program at the School Opening

The evening program at the School Opening Wednesday evening was as follows: Vocal solo, Miss Hazel Strang; Orchestra Selection; Vocal Duet, Misses Knight and Solo; Address: Piano Solo, Miss Malchow; Vocal Solo, Mrs. Stewes; Address: Orchestral Solo, Mrs. Shanks; Address: Orchestral; God Save the King. At the close of this excellent program, lunch was served by the students under the direction of Miss Goldie of the staff. Dancing was then indulged in for a few hours.

Council Session

The session of the council on Thursday night was characterized by several very important actions. The approving of the municipal horse trade was perhaps the most important. Discussing a series of salary for the engineer-electrician and deciding on a few dollars increase for the town foreman, was also very exhausting labor. Deciding upon gas for the fire-hall still further drew upon the vitality of the councillors. A letter was read from Auditor Kinsaid informing the council that he could not make the official audit in time for the meeting of the ratifiers. This is regrettable as this statement should be in the hands of the ratifiers for intelligent discussion at this meeting. Policeman Larkin has lost his job, the council having decided to do without a policeman for a while. Right here it is well to say that the services of Mr. Larkin were most satisfactory and in the opinion of the ratifiers never before has this town been so well policed as it has been during the past few months. With this meeting last night one more milestone on the "doughing" journey was passed.

Nuptials Westad-Pederson

Hans Johansen Westad and Johanne Helene Pederson, both born in Norway but both having lived for some time in this vicinity, were married at the Claresholm town hall on Tuesday, Nov. 17th by Rev. E. A. Cornish. Holbert Paulsen assisted the groom and Mrs. Paulsen, a sister of the bride, supported her. The newly-wedded couple are receiving the congratulations of many friends. They will reside at home near Claresholm.

New Firm of Auctioneers.

Another business was added to the roll upon the arrival to town Tuesday of Walter Younger, who in partnership with E. A. Brewer, of Stavely, will enter the general auctioneering business. Mr. Younger is originally from Chicago, Ill., but has been in Southern Manitoba for some time. He has had a wide experience in selling by auction horses and cattle and should be a success in the stock sales. It is his intention to settle in Claresholm, while his partner, Mr. Brewer, who has already built up quite a reputation as a successful auctioneer, will continue to operate in the latter part of that end. Mr. Younger expects his family from the East in a few days and looks forward to a busy season in his line.

Packet Libraries For Debates.

The Department of Extension of the University of Alberta supplied packet libraries for 20 debates during the month of October. In addition 16 applications for material on various subjects were received and the material furnished. Briefs and material are available on the following list of subjects:

BE AT THIS MEETING

On Monday evening of next week the annual meeting of the taxpayers will be called to order and the committees will give an account of their stewardship. There should be some plain talking done at this meeting.

It is most important that no glossing over of the situation should be done.

The taxpayers demand plain statements of the financial condition and prospects. Reports may easily be made which will only be a glossing over of the situation. Let the committee come to this meeting prepared to state exactly where the department actually stands with respect to the situation regarding its loss of gain and with some suggestion for the improvement of the financial position. Let the citizens come prepared to inquire and get to the bottom of the problem and with some well thought counsel to be given. In the multiplicity of committees such an advice should be given. The future of the town depends upon the kind of councils elected next month. The financial situation must be handled without glossing. There never has been a time when there was a greater necessity for every taxpayer of Clare-holm to attend an annual meeting.

SEEMS UNFAIR

UNEXPLAINED

The action of the Provincial government in taking from the towns and cities what revenue, large or small, these towns had been receiving from liquor licenses, is meeting with some severe criticism. It has not been impressed upon us yet what real benefit these towns are to receive in exchange for this loss. It is said that the government will give greater care to the inspection of the licensed premises even to the extent of relieving important taxes the expense of police-ing in the towns but even at that it seems to us that the cutting off, from the revenue of the towns at a critical time in the financial history of many towns will give a hardship rather than prove a blessing in disguise.

Professor of Geology

Visits Gas Fields

"All drilling for gas or oil in Alberta will be a matter of chance and not a geological survey of the underlying strata has been made," says professor John Allen, professor of Geology in the University of Alberta. Dr. Allen, last week visited some of the wells being drilled in the neighborhood of Athabasca

Landing. He found that in many cases no record whatever is kept of the materials encountered in the holes. In this way much valuable information, which might be gathered, is neglected. Professor Allen suggests that if a record of the findings of each well were kept and forwarded to the Department of Geology of the University of Alberta, that way there would be valuable information for those who think of undertaking drilling operations. It would, too, prevent the wasting of capital in drilling useless wells where there is no reasonable prospect of finding any mineral value.

To Celebrate One Hundred Years Peace

Clareholm has been invited to assist with the celebration of 100 years peace between Great Britain and the United States. The invitation takes the form of a letter addressed to the mayor of this town, requesting his attendance at an organization meeting to be held in Calgary on the evening of November 20th at 8:15 o'clock, when the election of a permanent committee to direct the peace celebration arrangements will be completed by the various delegates.

Christmas Eve, 1914, will witness exactly 100 years of peace between this country and the neighboring republic. With one of the longest border lines separating the two countries, and with many rural industries, the completion of 100 years of peace between these two nations calls for some fitting celebration. The occasion will be marked in a practical manner in many centres in Great Britain, the United States and Canada, and in order that Southern Alberta may not be behind in this celebration, it is proposed to organize at once for the work and for that reason the meeting has been called in Calgary on the 20th.

NOTICE

holm.

born but to educate him back to the farm. In his policy, he has the sympathy of every one of his old-time friends, and he has the numbers of the legislators. He would not deprecate the work in agricultural colleges, for indeed with that work he has been endeavoring to secure the farmers necessary to carry out his plan for the education of the farmer's boy or girl. But the policy of the college is to give the boys and girls an education and then take these students away from the farm. These schools are not, as they are frequently called, "vocational schools." They are not to prepare the work of the associates, but to give them the "theoretical" and more "showing." The teachers had been selected from the city and were instructed to "do not" talk. Their instruction must be of a character which can be taken away from the farm. The great object of these schools is to so interest the boy in the nature of his work on the farm that he will not want to leave it. He will love his work and live on the farm. Teach the boys to build the smaller buildings on the farm, to make repairs, to fix things, to do the work of the farm, and to have solved the problem of keeping him there. He will take and find a real pleasure in his work. The old custom of the gentleman farmer was to gradually bring out a cow at Vermilion, as the result of a cow-testing demonstration at the Farm, twenty farmers are selected and the boys are sent to the schools and are to have good milk producers. The fact that farming had not been so remunerative to many as it should have been, was the cause of the lack of effort and misplaced energy. These schools will aim to guide the effort and direct the energy along productiveness. The boys are to have an announcement that the boys attending the Carleton Place Agricultural School will be taken to the Royal Winter Fair, the Ontario Agricultural Stock Show at Calgary, Tuesday of next week and there they will see judging by experts of live stock, both the best and in the curves. The government will pay every boy's fare to Calgary, special street cars will take them to the exhibition, the boys will be given a free lunch and the boys will be able to return to Carletonville the same day. Enquiries have been received from parents and the boys themselves, from England, wanting to know if the government would provide an opportunity for them to travel to the United States, which would then take them to take places on farms in this province and the minister of agriculture said that if there were sufficient interest, his department would warrant the schools for a summer course, independent of the present plan. It is important as to assimilate the emigrant student. In all probability, there will be field meetings in the summer to give the boys an opportunity of attending the school during the regular term can return to see the results of experimentation on the extension of the school to the fall and the spring. More than that, if any farmer in the district is confronted by some problem in his work on the farm, the boys will be sent to the principal of the nearest school of agriculture and a teacher will be sent out to assist in the solving of his problem. This is the policy of the government; it is the commonly accepted notion; it is intended to carry agricultural education to the farm itself.

Mr. J. B. Boyle congratulated his honorable friend and spoke his views on the subject of the policy over the criticism.

stating that the inauguration of this forward movement should come in the department of agricultural education because of all the sciences, chemistry is the most important. It was necessary before this science could be given prominence that body of great sciences should be laid. Only in recent years has chemistry been able to lift itself from the obscurity which surrounded its forerunner, alchemy. And the chemistry of the soil, geology, which formed the foundation for the sciences of agriculture, has been the basis of the earth. Alberta had gone at the problem of applying science to the solution of the practical problems of agriculture about the time her people were beginning to realize that the province will be seen a greater efficiency in that occupation which, is fundamental to the province, doubling the potentiality and the possibilities of the province, and increasing the province and also an increase in the domestic value of the workmen with chemical returns from their labor. In his travels in Europe and in his study of the sciences of agriculture, he had seen no better school, or no greater opportunities than this school and the opportunity it afforded to the students to study the sciences of chemistry.

One of our most interested contributors recently received by the Daily Colonist, Vancouver, is from a school teacher in the Northwest. Her report forms and literature on the subject of cow-busting, being more interesting than any I have ever listened to. She is starting a contest in her school for the best cow-buster according to the production of individual cows, to last one year.

There is a very interesting and promising field for every school teacher and for thousands of boys in our country's schools. In this we would be following the example of the teachers of many schools in the United States and New Zealand where the use of the Holbeck milk pester has been found to be the best method of cow-busting like this, we should be out blazing trails for other teachers and boys to follow.

Any school work could be taken up by such a plan, for any record work that kind must infallibly lead to better results. The boys of the cow-busting farms. Probably these Alberta lads will soon be excellent dairymen obtaining seventy-five or one hundred

The Army of Consumers Make it an Inviting Field for Manufacturers

Some idea of the enormous consuming power of the Prairie Provinces may be gathered from the statistics supplied by the Winnipeg Industrial Bureau, who, at great labor and with commendable enterprise, definitely ascertained the number of straight carload lots billed into Winnipeg in the year 1913. The following are a few of the figures,

Agricultural implements, 2,120; wire nails, fencing, 1,529; cement, 1,180; furniture, 1,090; hardware, 1,012; sugar, 873; paper, 863; machinery, 743; carriages & wagons, 712; from pipe, 685; tools and related articles, 670; agricultural goods, 571; barbed wire, 511; seeds and straw, 506; automobile, 501; glass windows and plates, 496. There are only a few of the principal items. Already a list is being made in the manufacture of some of these lines in the West. There is abundant opportunity, however, for new industries. When these lines are developed, they will furnish work which are now manufactured in Eastern Canada, are turned out in Western workshops, employment will be furnished for an army of workmen, who with their wives and families, will provide a profitable market for the

One of the most interesting letters recently received by the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, is from a school teacher in Alberta who asks for more record forms and literature on the subject of cow testing, because—now listen. Some of the boys in the school are starting a contest to record the production of individual cows.

This opens up a most promising field for every school teacher and for thousands of boys in our country's schools. In this we would be following somewhat slowly in the wake of many schools in the United States and New Zealand where the use of the Babcock milk tester has been taught for some time. In a dairy country like this, we should be utilizing the Babcock milk tester for other teachers and boys to follow.

Moose Jaw's Aim is to be an All-round Successful City

President Crichton, of the Moos Jaw Board of Trade, in his annual address to that body early in the year, emphasized the necessity of manufacturing development in the upbuilding the successful, well rounded citizen in the course of his address he said: "I am sure that we are all here, we want the manufacturer to supply our needs. One fact which must not be lost sight of, and indeed which is the basis of the entire thought in the minds of the citizens of Menasha, Wis., is, that in order that this industry shall be established on a strong basis, it is necessary that we should pay of full dinner-pails-in other words, that it is the volume of industrial workers who are and will be the mainstay of the community. It is our great need is manufacturing an industrial concerns. And as the securing of manufacturers to locate in Menasha, we must require the necessary experience and knowledge of management, and is a profession of its own kind and every city of any note in the country employs an expert in industrial matters. We are fortunate Canada's Trade policy for the past twenty years has directly encouraged the establishment of manufacturing industries in Canada both in Western and Eastern Canada and if this policy is maintained with out any unreasonable changes it will not only encourage Canada's own industries but will also help the nations will be realized.

Employer and Employee Co-operate in a Big Rubber Company

An employees' mutual benefit society has just been organized by one of Canada's largest rubber companies for the purpose of rendering assistance to employees in cases of sickness and death and of supplying them with medical attendance. Men are entitled to $4 per week for the first ten weeks they are incapacitated by sickness or accident; women and all others earning at the rate of 13 cents per hour will get $2.50 per week for the same period. A clause provides that no penalties shall be paid in cases where drunkenness is the result of intoxication or immoral conduct. The sum of $100 will be paid to assist in defraying the funeral expenses of a deceased member. The establishment of such societies as this improves the relations between employer and employee. Moreover, experts state that little difficulty will be encountered in securing a group of workers' compensation in the conditions created by such societies.

BRITISH PREFERENCE

This Question in its Relation to Present Conditions of the Wool Industry

A study of the woolen industry in Canada is interesting at the present time in view of the agitation to increase the British Preference. In 1901, British manufacturers received a preferential tariff rate equivalent to 22 1/4 per cent. During that year the value of wools imported into Canada from the United Kingdom amounted to $5,889,891. Under the stimulus of this low preferential rate importations rapidly increased; and although in 1906, the preferential rate was changed to 30 per cent. ad valorem, the importation of British goods in creased so rapidly that, in 1911, it amounted to $12,652,257.

What happened to the woolen industry in Canada during this decade? In 1901, the capital invested was $10,587,082; in 1911, it was only $8,529,305.

This simply means that the British preferential tariff in wools has benefited British manufacturers at the expense of Canadian manufacturers.

Five factors contribute to the difference in the cost of production in the United Kingdom and in Canada. First, the cost of building and equipping a plant is much greater in Canada than in Britain. Secondly, interest charges on capital are greater in a new and partially developed country. Thirdly, Canadian manufacturers have not yet reached that stage of industrial development where they can specialize extensively, and are consequently compelled to fill some contracts at a loss. Fourthly, the greater part of the raw material is in the United Kingdom. In 1911, of the 7,195,436 pounds of raw wool imported into Canada, 3,000,000 pounds came from Britain. The fifth and most important factor is labor. We do not want to keep skilled work men out of Canada, or drive out those already here by decreasing their wages to the level of British wages.

If capital invested in the woolen industry decreased by $2,057,777 during the last census decade, what decrease may we expect during the next decade if the British preference on wools is not reduced, and what would happen to our woolen industry if the preference were increased?

In dealing with the British preferential tariff, not only in the woolen industry but in all Canadian industries, it is only reasonable that we should safeguard the workmen and the business of our own citizens first.

In view of the efforts that are being made by the Department of Agriculture of the Dominion and of the various provinces to encourage the raising of sheep, the foregoing statements about the effect of the British preference are not without interest to the Western farmer and prospective wool grower.

JAPANESE COTTON

Its Bearing on the Cotton Trade of Canada and United States

By living on a scale which would starve an American or a European, our manufacturing industries, the Japanese are taking considerable trade from the United States in spite of the high tariff of that country. Senator Smith explained to the United States Senate the other day how Japan had already taken the cotton trade of Manchuria from the United States, and would soon control the entire demand of China. It would seem evident that as Japan takes away the trade in cottons from the United States, that that country will try to redeem its losses by selling more cotton in Canada, especially if our duty is reduced.

The Canadian tariff on gray and white cotton fabrics is only 25 per cent, and on colored cotton fabrics 35 per cent. Japan is not one of our serious competitors, as yet, probably, because she is confining her efforts to taking away the Asiatic export trade of the United States. But during the year ending March 31st, 1915, we imported cotton manufactures worth $5,187,000 from Great Britain and $2,531,665 from the United States.

Those who advocate increasing the British Preference are not aware of the effect of such an increase on our cotton industry. A recent official report of the British Government states that 14 per cent. of the men in the cotton industry in England earn less than $5 per week, working full time, nearly 44 per cent. earn between $5 and $7.50, thirteen per cent. earn more than $7.50 a week, while 39 per cent. earn between $2.50 and $5 a week. The average hours of labor in the English cotton industry are 55.5 a week. Do we want these wages for the men and women who engaged in the Canadian cotton industry?

A brick and clay products plant will shortly be erected in Taber, Alta., for the Canadian West Mines.
